2. Term and Class Period

Academic Calendar and Term

- Academic Calendar determines the duration of each term, class days, and event days at the university
- Academic Calendar is available on MUSCAT.
(MUSCAT → My Tools → e-Cabinet → Academic Affairs Administrative Office → 01_教務共通)
- To secure sufficient number of classes, class may be conducted on national holidays according to the Academic Calendar.
- Spring semester courses are held through 1st term to 2nd term, while Fall semester courses are held through 3rd to 4th term (Year-round courses are held through 1st term to 4th term). Certain courses may also be held on Saturdays or outside the regular term (August to September or February) as intensive courses.

	4th Term	11/21 (Tue) to 1/27 (Sat)

<Four-Term System>

- Musashino University adopts four-term system that divides an academic year into four terms.
- A typical term course is conducted either in two consecutive periods or twice a week. This allows students to focus on each course by taking relatively fewer courses each term which can improve the quality of learning.
- In four-term system, students will steadily grasp the content of the courses and accumulate knowledge and skills by taking a fundamental course in 1st term and advanced course in 2nd term.

A: Ariake	1-201	1	2	01

-Students can check classrooms for courses in My timetable and the syllabus on MUSCAT.

-If there is a classroom change, it will be informed on MUSCAT.

-If a course completes only with online classes, Online is displayed in the campus field in the syllabus.

3. Credit System and Course Category

Credits

- Credit is a unit of standard amount of study hours required to acquire credits for a course.
- A credit corresponds to forty-five hours of study, including both class hours and self-study hours.
- Attending classes is not enough to fulfill the required amount of study hours for acquiring credits. To acquire credits and achieve the objectives of the course, including the acquisition of the knowledge, attitude, and skills, self-study hours are necessary in addition to class hours.

$$\boxed{1 \text{ credit}} = \boxed{\text{Class hours}} + \boxed{\text{Self-study hours}} = 45 \text{ hours}$$

-The number of credits is calculated as follows, depending on the course type.

Lecture, Seminar course	A credit consists of 45 study hours in combination of 15 to 30 class-hours and self-study hours.
Practice, Experiment course	A credit consists of 45 study hours in combination of 30 to 45 class-hours and self-study hours.

Course Category

Courses are divided into the following categories in the Necessary Credits for Graduation Requirements. Refer to the Course List in the Course Guide for course categories.

a Required Course	The courses required for graduation.
b Elective Required Course	The courses students need to acquire a certain number of credits from a designated group.
c Elective Course	The courses students need to acquire a certain number of credits (other than a and b).
d Optional Course	Optional courses counted as the Necessary Credits for Graduation Requirements (other than a , b , c).
e Extra Course*	Extra courses that are not counted as the Necessary Credits for Graduation Requirements.

<Designated Courses>

- Designated courses refer to certain elective required or elective courses that are the core of the curriculum in addition to required courses.
- Designated courses are automatically registered.
- Retaking is not mandatory for a designated course. However, since designated courses are the core of the curriculum, the advanced courses' content is based on the knowledge of the designated courses.

<Course Substitution>

- The curriculum is determined for each year of enrolment in each department.
- Therefore, the courses and course names may differ depending on the year of enrolment even in the same department.
- When a curriculum change results in the abolition of a course or a change in a course name, students will take a new course to replace an old course (Course Substitution).
- In this case, the new course is called Substituting Course, and the old (abolished) course is called Substituted Course.
- The Substituting Course will be recorded as the Substituted Course on the transcript.
- The list of the substituting and substituted course is on the Course List in the Course Guide (Refer to your year of enrolment).

On-demand course may also be combined with regular classes. Although, on-demand course does not have a fixed timetable, distribution of materials and assignments submission should be done each week in general, and continuous study is necessary. Contact the teacher for the detailed schedule.

*In principle, irregular term courses are also included in CAP.

Numbering System (Course Number)

-The curriculum is organized systematically to enable students to effectively study courses based on their interests and career goals that aligned with human resource development goals.

-Each course has its course number based on the academic discipline (alphabetical index) and level (generally corresponding to year level) to indicate the systematic organization of the curriculum.

-Students can develop their course registration plan that takes into consideration the level of their studies by referring to the course number.

-Confirm the course numbers on Course List in the department's Course Guide.

<Course Number Notation>

ABC	1	0	1
Academic Discipline	Course Level	Classification	Reference Number

<Course Level>

Number	Target Program	Course Level
100	Undergraduate	Introductory level (equivalent to 1st-year level)

<Note>

- Students can take courses open to their current year level and lower.
(e.g., 3rd-year students can also take 1st and 2nd-year courses)
- Graduation requirements and Courses may differ depending on the year of enrolment even within the same department.
Be sure to confirm the Necessary Credits for Graduation Requirements according to your year of enrolment.

<Course Models>

- Course Models show representative course registration examples based on the department's human resource development goals
- Due to schedule conflicts and excess of class capacity, course model does not guarantee student's course registration.
However, students are encouraged to refer to the course model and develop course registration plans while confirming Necessary Credits for Graduation Requirements, CAP, and Course Requisites.

<Syllabus>

- Confirm timetable (days of weeks and class periods), teachers, campuses, and terms for each course in the syllabus.

*Face-to-Face classes may switch to Online depending on the social situation.

<60-credit limit for online courses>

-The credits acquired from online courses are limited to 60 credits for the necessary credits for graduation requirements (Standards for Establishment of Universities)

-Courses where over 50% of the total number of classes are conducted online are subject to the 60-credit limit for online courses. The “Type of Learning (Mode of Delivery)” for each course is displayed in the syllabus (refer to the table above for the type of learning and 60-credit limit for online courses). Confirm the Course List in the Course Guide for a number of credits for each course.

-The curriculum is designed not to exceed “60-credit limit for online courses” by each department. However, students should ensure that the total number of credits acquired by online courses does not exceed 60 credits when taking mainly online courses for elective courses category.

-Even if a student attend a Face-to-Face class online due to their unavoidable circumstances, it will be considered a Face-to-Face class.

<Exception of 60-credit limit for online courses>

The 60-credit limit for online courses does not apply in the following cases:

(1) Credits of online courses taken in AY2020 and AY2021

It will not account for 60-credit limit for online courses due to special measures for preventing the spread of the COVID-19.

(2) Switching to online classes in the event of a natural disaster

When it is difficult to conduct a Face-to-Face class due to infectious diseases or natural disasters such as earthquakes, the university may switch Face-to-Face classes to online at its discretion. In this case, even if more than half of the total number of classes for a course is conducted online, it will be considered a Face-to-Face course for the courses originally scheduled to be conducted Face-to-Face.

Course Requisites

-Certain courses have requisites based on the learning order of the curriculum.

e.g., Course A is fundamental and Course B is advanced

Course A is the first half of the content, and Course B is the second half of the content

(1) PRE-requisites	Required (Recommended) to take course A before course B .
(2) SET-requisites	Required (Recommended) to take both course A and course B .

<Note>

-A course that students must fulfil the requisites is (◆Required requisites) and a course that students should fulfil the requisites is (◇Recommended requisites).

-The content of Course B is based on the content of Course A even if it is a Recommended requisite. Students who fulfil the Recommended requisites have priority for an excess of class capacity.

-If a course has requisites, it is indicated on the Course List in the Course Guide of the department.

-The Course requisite details can be found in the syllabus. Confirm the syllabus for required knowledge, skills, and interests for the course other than PRE-requisites and SET-requisites.

-A course registration without fulfilling the Required requisites will be deleted by the office.

GPA System

-Musashino University adopts GPA system for attainment level assessment.

-GPA (Grade Point Average) is to replace the grades (on a scale of S to X) of the courses with grade points, and evaluate the grade comprehensively based on the average.

-As the minimum level of attainment, a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or higher is required to graduate from the University. Moreover, GPA is used for requisites for the next year level (refer to the Requisites for the 2nd-year level for the details).

-GPA is widely used in overseas universities. GPA is one of the objectives for a student who is going to a graduate school or an overseas university (in general, GPA 3.00 or higher is preferable).

<Yearly GPA/Cumulative GPA>

-There are two types of GPA: Yearly GPA and Cumulative GPA.

-Cumulative GPA may be a requirement for Internship courses and Study Abroad Programs.

-Confirm each program's information for the details.

-The courses included in each type of GPA are as follows.

Type of GPA	Course included in GPA
Yearly GPA	Courses taken in an academic year.
Cumulative GPA	All courses taken from the 1st year.

<GPA Formula>

- GPA is calculated as the ratio of the total grade points acquired and the total credits. The total credits refers to the credits of all courses a student has taken from 1st year including failed courses (D or X).
- The former Grade and Credits are overwritten by the new Grade including failed grades if retaking.
- Students cannot retake a course which they have passed and acquired credits for (C or better grades).
- The formula and calculation example are as follows.

(GPA Formula)

Total Grade Points of the academic year (from all acquired courses)

= Yearly GPA (truncated to two decimal places)

Total Credits of the academic year (including failed courses D or X)

Total Grade Points of all academic years (from all acquired courses)

= Cumulative GPA (truncated to two decimal places)

Total Credits of all academic years (including failed courses D or X)

Calculation example

Course	Credit	Grade	Grade Point	Total Grade Points (Credit × Grade Point)
Introduction to Buddhism	2	S	4.0	8.0
Introduction to Data Science	1	A	3.0	3.0
Introduction to Artificial Intelligence	1	A	3.0	3.0
English(Lower-Intermediate)A	2	C	1.0	2.0
English(Lower-Intermediate)C	2	D	0.0	0.0
Japanese Literacy	1	B	2.0	2.0
Total	9	-	-	18.0

$$\frac{(2 \times 4.0) + (1 \times 3.0) + (1 \times 3.0) + (2 \times 1.0) + (2 \times 0.0) + (1 \times 2.0)}{2 + 1 + 1 + 2 + 2 + 1} = \text{GPA } 2.00$$

Calculation example (if a grade is improved)

*English (Lower-Intermediate) C's grade improved from D to S

Course	Credit	Grade	Grade Point	Total Grade Points (Credit × Grade Point)
Introduction to Buddhism	2	S	4.0	8.0
Introduction to Data Science	1	A	3.0	3.0
Introduction to Artificial Intelligence	1	A	3.0	3.0
English(Lower-Intermediate)A	2	C	1.0	2.0
English(Lower-Intermediate)C	2	S	4.0	8.0
Japanese Literacy	1	B	2.0	2.0
Total	9	-	-	26.0
